Fuga.

A musical score page featuring a single staff. The staff contains several notes of different types: a whole note, a half note, a quarter note, an eighth note, a sixteenth note, and a thirty-second note. Above the staff, there are red markings consisting of the letters 'V' and 'P' placed above specific notes. The 'V' markings are positioned above the first, third, fifth, and eighth notes from the left. The 'P' markings are positioned above the second, fourth, sixth, and ninth notes from the left. These markings likely indicate performance instructions or specific dynamics for those particular notes.

A photograph of a handwritten musical score on page 3, system 1. The score consists of two staves of music. The top staff uses a soprano C-clef and a common time signature. The bottom staff uses a bass F-clef and a common time signature. The music includes various note heads, stems, and rests. There are several red markings: a small red '3' at the beginning of the first measure, a red vertical bar above the second measure, and a red horizontal bar below the fourth measure.

A page from a handwritten musical manuscript. It features a single staff with five horizontal lines. The music consists of various note heads, some with stems and some without, representing different pitch levels and rhythmic values. A red square is placed above the first note head, and another red square is placed below the second note head. The handwriting is in black ink on white paper.

A horizontal strip of a musical score showing multiple staves. The staves are filled with black and white note heads, some with stems and some with vertical dashes. There are also several rests of different lengths. The music is written in common time, indicated by a 'C' at the beginning of each staff.

A horizontal strip of handwritten musical notation on five-line staff paper. The music consists of various note heads and stems, some with vertical dashes, indicating pitch and rhythm. There are several rests and a few small red marks or corrections visible.

A horizontal strip of a musical manuscript page featuring a single staff. The staff contains several note heads, some of which are highlighted with red ink. Red markings include the number '1' at the beginning, '4' above a note, 'V' below a note, and 'Y' above a note. There are also red brackets and vertical lines connecting certain notes.

A musical score page featuring a single staff with multiple note heads and stems. Red numbers are overlaid on the page: '1' is positioned above a note head near the top right; '2' is positioned below a note head near the bottom left; and '3' is positioned above another note head further down the staff. The music consists of various note heads and stems, some with horizontal dashes through them.

A close-up view of a musical score on page 10, showing measures 11 and 12. The notation includes various note heads, stems, and rests. Red ink annotations are present: a vertical red line is positioned between the two measures; above the first measure, there is a red bracket spanning the first six notes, with the letters 'V' and 'H' written above it; above the second measure, there is another red bracket spanning the first four notes, with the letters 'P' and 'P' written above it.

A horizontal strip of a handwritten musical score. It shows two measures of music for three voices (Soprano, Alto, Bass) on three staves. Measure 11 starts with a bass note followed by a soprano eighth-note pattern. Measure 12 begins with an alto eighth-note pattern. The page is numbered '4' at the bottom left and has a red checkmark at the bottom right.

A horizontal strip of handwritten musical notation on five-line staves. The music consists of sixteenth-note patterns. Red vertical marks are placed above the first two notes of the second measure, and red brackets are placed above the first two notes of the third measure.

A close-up view of a musical score page, specifically a staff of music. The staff consists of five horizontal lines. Above the staff, there are several red numerical markings: '1' at the beginning, '3' below it, followed by a group of three '0's, another group of three '0's, and finally '2' repeated three times. There are also some smaller red numbers like '0' and '2' scattered among the main markings.

A photograph of a handwritten musical score on five-line staff paper. The score consists of two systems of music. The first system (measures 10-11) starts with a bass clef, a 'C' key signature, and a common time signature. It features a bassoon part with sustained notes and grace notes, and a piano part with eighth-note chords. Measure 11 begins with a treble clef, a 'G' key signature, and common time. The bassoon continues with eighth-note patterns, and the piano provides harmonic support. The second system (measures 12-13) begins with a bass clef, a 'C' key signature, and common time. The bassoon plays eighth-note patterns, and the piano provides harmonic support. Measures 13-14 show a continuation of this pattern.
