Fuga.

A musical score for piano featuring a single melodic line. The notes are represented by black dots on a five-line staff. Above the staff, red labels indicate specific note heads: 'v' (for eighth note), 'п' (for sixteenth note), 'п' (for eighth note), 'v' (for eighth note), 'п' (for sixteenth note), 'п' (for eighth note), 'п' (for eighth note), 'v' (for eighth note), 'v' (for eighth note), 'п' (for sixteenth note), 'п' (for eighth note), and 'п' (for eighth note). There are also several rests indicated by white spaces on the staff.

Allegro

A horizontal strip of a handwritten musical score. It features two measures of music on a single staff. The first measure begins with a sharp sign (F#) and contains six notes. The second measure begins with a sharp sign (G#) and contains five notes. Red square brackets above the first two notes of each measure indicate they are part of a melodic line.

A musical score page featuring a single staff with five-line notation. The staff begins with a treble clef, followed by a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a common time signature. The notes include quarter notes, eighth notes, sixteenth notes, and various rests. Red vertical marks are placed above the 11th, 13th, and 15th notes from the start of the measure, likely indicating specific performance instructions or rehearsal marks.

A horizontal strip of a handwritten musical manuscript. It consists of two staves, each with five lines. The music is written in black ink, featuring various note heads (squares, circles, triangles) and rests. There are several red ink marks: a small red dot at the beginning of the first staff, a red circle near the end of the first staff, a red square at the beginning of the second staff, and a red circle at the end of the second staff.

A page from a handwritten musical score, showing a single system of music. The score consists of two staves. The top staff uses a soprano C-clef, and the bottom staff uses an alto F-clef. Both staves have a common time signature. The music features various note heads, some with stems and others with dots, indicating different rhythmic values. There are also several rests of varying lengths. The handwriting is in black ink on white paper.

This image shows a page of handwritten musical notation on five staves. The notation is primarily in black ink, with red ink used for specific markings. These markings include:

- Dynamics: Red 'P' (piano) and red 'V' (forte) symbols.
- Note Heads: Red outlines around some note heads, particularly in the first and second staves.
- Numbers: Red numbers placed above or below notes, such as '1', '2', '3', '4', and '0'. In the fourth staff, there is also a red '(D)'.

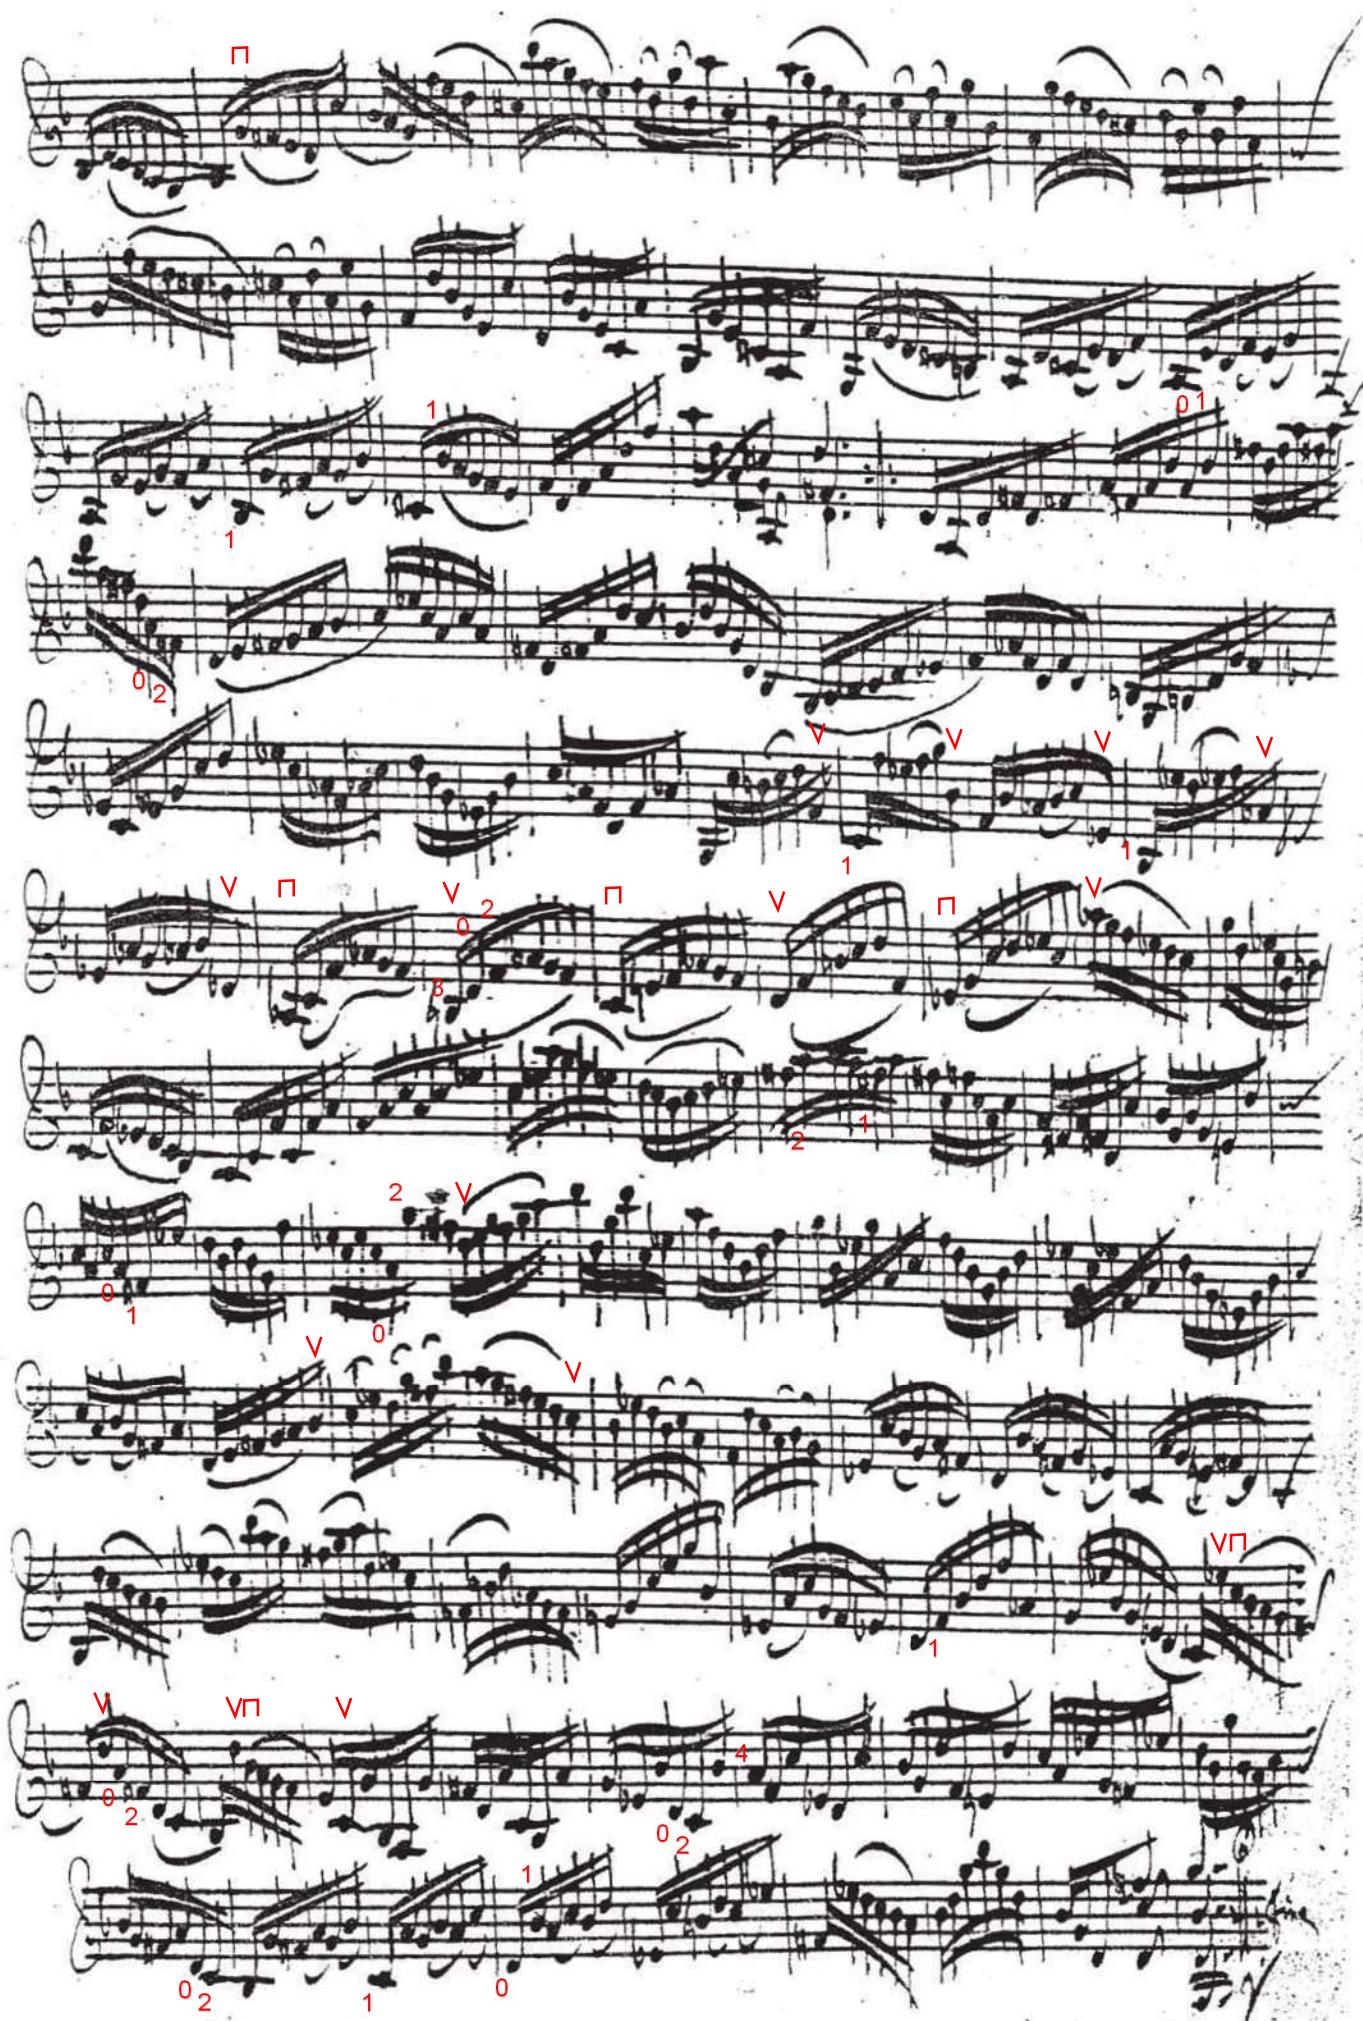

The musical notation consists of five staves, each with a different clef (Treble, Bass, Alto, Tenor, Bass). The notes are represented by various shapes: solid black, hollow black, solid white, and hollow white. Rests are also present. The overall appearance is a mix of standard musical notation and experimental markings.

Sonata a Violino solo senza Basso.

Allegro.

This image shows a handwritten musical score for violin solo. The score consists of ten staves of music, each with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a common time signature. Red ink has been used to add various markings to the music, including:

- Arabic numerals (1, 2, 3, 4) placed above or below specific notes and rests.
- The letters 'V' and 'P' placed above or below notes and rests, likely indicating performance techniques such as vibrato or portamento.
- A circled '2' located near the end of the fourth staff.
- A circled '1' located near the beginning of the fifth staff.
- A circled '3' located near the beginning of the ninth staff.

These markings provide specific instructions for playing the piece.

Fuga.

A handwritten musical score for organ fugue, consisting of 15 staves of music. The music is written in black ink on white paper. Red ink is used to add various markings: dynamic signs (V for forte, P for piano), articulation marks (dots), and performance instructions. Some red markings include 'VП' (Vivace/Presto), 'П' (Pianissimo), 'V' (Forte), and 'П' (Pianissimo). Articulation marks are placed above and below notes, often with numbers 1, 2, or 3 indicating stroke order. Performance instructions like 'vibrato' and 'sustained note' are also present. The score is organized into measures by vertical bar lines. The handwriting is cursive and expressive, typical of a composer's working manuscript.

12

A handwritten musical score for two voices, consisting of ten staves of music. The music is written in common time, with various note heads and stems. Red ink has been used to add numerous markings, likely for rehearsal or performance purposes. These markings include:

- Arabic numerals (1, 2, 3, 4) placed above or below specific notes.
- Russian characters 'п' (p) and 'в' (v) placed above or below notes, often in pairs.
- Superscript numbers (e.g., <sup>1</sup>, <sup>2</sup>, <sup>3</sup>) placed above or below notes.
- Red horizontal lines drawn across staves to group measures or indicate specific dynamics.

The score appears to be a vocal piece, possibly a duet, given the two staves. The handwriting is cursive and varies in size and style throughout the score.

This image shows a handwritten musical score for three voices: Soprano (top), Alto (middle), and Bass (bottom). The music is written on five-line staves. Red ink has been used to add various markings to the score, likely for performance or rehearsal purposes. These markings include:

- Fingerings: Numerals 1, 2, 3, and 4 are placed above specific notes and rests in the upper voices to indicate fingerings.
- Dynamics: The letters "P" (pianissimo) and "V" (fortissimo) are used as dynamic markings.
- Performance Instructions: Some measures contain additional text in red, such as "П П П П" (pianissimo) and "П П П П П П П П" (pianissimo).
- Measure Numbers: Numerals 1, 2, 3, and 4 are placed below certain measures to mark specific points in the music.

The score consists of approximately 15 measures of music, with the red markings distributed throughout the piece, particularly in the upper voices.
