Fuga.

A musical score page featuring a single melodic line on a five-line staff. The notes are primarily black, with several red markings overlaid: 'v' and 'p' at the beginning, 'p' and 'v' in the middle, 'p' and 'n' near the end, and a double bar line with 'p' and 'n' above it. There are also red vertical lines and horizontal strokes indicating dynamic changes and performance instructions.

Allegro

A musical score page featuring a single staff of music. The staff consists of five horizontal lines. There are several black note heads with stems, some with vertical dashes indicating pitch, and black rests of varying sizes. Two small red squares are positioned above the first two notes from the left side of the staff.

A horizontal strip of musical manuscript paper showing a single measure of music. The measure begins with a sharp sign indicating F major. It contains two eighth-note chords: one on the first beat and another on the second beat. The bass line consists of quarter notes. The measure ends with a half note on the third beat and a sharp sign above it, indicating the end of the section.

A musical score fragment showing measure 11. The first six measures are identical to the previous ones. The seventh measure begins with a bass note followed by a treble note. Red annotations above the staff indicate performance techniques: 'VV ПП' over the first two notes, 'П' over the third note, and 'V' over the fourth note.

This image shows a horizontal strip of musical manuscript paper. It features a single staff with five lines and four spaces. The notes are represented by black stems and heads. Red ink has been used to mark specific notes: a 'V' is written above the first note, a 'П' (P) is written above the second note, a '4' is written above the third note, another 'П' is written above the fourth note, and a 'V' is written above the fifth note. There are also other red marks, such as a '1' and a '4', scattered across the staff.

УП УП УП Г

A horizontal strip of handwritten musical notation on five-line staff paper. The notation consists of vertical stems with small horizontal dashes above them, representing eighth-note patterns. There are several such patterns across the page, separated by short vertical lines.

A horizontal strip of a handwritten musical score. It features a single staff with six measures of music. The first measure has a 'C' clef, a 'G' time signature, and a key signature of one sharp. The notes are mostly eighth notes. Red numbers are placed above the staff: '0' is at the beginning of the first measure; '1' is above the first note of the second measure; '1' is above the first note of the third measure; '1' is above the first note of the fourth measure; and '4 4 4 4' is above the first four notes of the fifth measure.

A photograph of a handwritten musical score page. The page shows two systems of music. The first system (measures 1-2) has red numbers 1 and 2 placed above specific notes. The second system (measures 3-4) also has red numbers 1 and 2 placed above notes. The notation is in common time, with various note heads and stems.

This image shows a page of handwritten musical notation on five staves. The notation is primarily in black ink, with red ink used for specific markings. These markings include:

- Dynamics: Red 'P' (piano) and red 'V' (forte) symbols.
- Note Heads: Red outlines around some note heads, particularly in the first and second staves.
- Numbers: Red numbers placed above or below notes, such as '1', '2', '3', '4', and '0'. In the fourth staff, there is also a red '(D)'.

The musical notation consists of five staves, each with a different clef (e.g., bass clef, tenor clef). The notes are represented by various shapes: solid black, hollow black, solid white, and hollow white. Rests are also present. The overall appearance is a mix of standard musical notation and experimental markings.
