Allegro

A photograph of a handwritten musical score page. The page features five staves of music for two voices. The first two staves are soprano parts, indicated by a 'S' at the beginning of each. The third staff is a bass part, indicated by a 'B'. The fourth staff is another soprano part, indicated by a 'S'. The fifth staff is a bass part, indicated by a 'B'. The music consists of various note heads and stems, with some notes having vertical stems pointing upwards and others downwards. There are also several rests and a few small red marks near the top of the page.

A photograph of a handwritten musical score page. The page contains two systems of music. System 1 consists of four staves, each with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a common time signature. The first staff has a bass clef, and the second, third, and fourth staves have treble clefs. The music includes various note heads, stems, and rests. A red square box highlights a specific note head in the fourth staff. System 2 begins with a treble clef and a common time signature, continuing the musical line from the first system.

A horizontal strip of a handwritten musical score. It features a staff with six black notes and a single eighth note. Below the staff, there are two sets of red markings: 'V' and 'P' (sharp) on the first note, and 'P' (flat) on the second note.

A horizontal strip of handwritten musical manuscript paper. It features several staves of music with various performance markings written above them in red ink. The markings include 'V' (with a vertical line), 'П' (with a diagonal line), '1' (with a vertical line), '4' (with a vertical line), and 'Г' (with a vertical line). Some markings have arrows pointing to specific notes or groups of notes on the staves.
