- A circled 'V' at the beginning of the seventh staff.
- A circled 'P' at the beginning of the eighth staff.
- A circled 'V' at the beginning of the ninth staff.
- A circled 'P' at the beginning of the tenth staff.

These markings likely represent performance instructions such as 'play with vibrato' (V) or 'play with pizzicato' (P). The score is written on five-line staves, with some staves having a bass clef and others a treble clef. The overall style is that of a classical sonata movement.

Fuga.

A handwritten musical score for organ fugue, consisting of 15 staves of music. The music is written in black ink on white paper. Red ink is used to add various markings: dynamic signs (V for forte, P for piano), articulation marks (dots), and performance instructions. Some red markings include 'VП' (Vivace/Presto), 'П' (Pianissimo), 'V' (Forte), and 'П' (Pianissimo). Articulation marks are placed above and below notes, often with numbers 1, 2, or 3 indicating stroke order. Performance instructions like 'vibrato' and 'sustained note' are also present. The score is organized into measures by vertical bar lines. The handwriting is cursive and expressive, typical of a composer's working manuscript.

The musical score consists of five staves of music for two voices: Soprano (top) and Bass (bottom). The music is written in common time. Red ink annotations are present throughout the score, primarily in the Soprano part, indicating performance techniques. The annotations include:

- V: A red 'V' symbol placed above or below notes and rests.
- П: A red 'П' symbol placed above or below notes and rests.
- 1, 2, 3, 4: Numerical values placed above or below notes and rests, often connected by lines to specific performance points.

These annotations provide specific guidance for the performer regarding phrasing, dynamics, or fingerings across the entire piece.
